Acceptable Identification Types

The first time you open an account with Community First Credit Union, you'll be required to provide us with identification to verify your name, and either your address or date of birth. This is the Credit Union's first line of defence against identity theft and money laundering. We are also required by law to positively identify all members wishing to open an account.

To open the account you'll need to bring along some original identification (ID) documents. The types of documents that can be used to open an account are comprehensive enough to allow the majority of people to easily meet the identification requirement.

You will need:

- ONE document from List A; or
- TWO documents one from List B and one from List C

	Photo driver's licence issued by a State or Territory or foreign government
	Photo proof of age card issued by a State or Territory (student cards not accepted)
List A	Passport, current (or expired within the last 2 years)
	Birth certificate for any minor (below age 18)
	Birth certificate or extract issued by a state or territory or by a foreign government (with accredited English translation) for an adult aged 18 years and over
List B	Citizenship certificate issued by the Commonwealth or a foreign government (with accredited English translation)
	Pension card issued by Centrelink
	A notice issued by the Commonwealth, a State or Territory within the preceding 12 months containing your name and residential address and recording the provision of financial benefits
List C	A notice issued by the Australian Taxation Office within the preceding 12 months containing your name and residential address and recording a debt payable to or by the individual
	A notice issued by a local government body or utilities provider within the preceding 3 months containing your name and residential address and recording the provision of services to that person
